NEW REDEVELOPMENT IN DOWNTOWN BERLIN

A new redevelopment is happening soon in the heart of Berlin, Maryland! The town of Berlin's Historic District Commission approved the concept submission early last month. This project will consist of multiple properties being redeveloped in downtown Berlin which will include retail, apartments, and a new restaurant.

Toys for Tots

Fisher Architecture was a proud sponsor of the Nanticoke Bass Club's annual Toys for Tot's fishing tournament!

ALLEY OOPS OPENS SECOND LOCATION

We are excited to announce the second location for Alley Oops has opened! Midtown Alley Oops is located on 56th street in Ocean City, Maryland. Fisher Architecture provided full architectural design services to renovate this existing 18,000 square foot building into an upscale beach dining atmosphere with an upscale menu with something to do for everyone!

What is different and unique from their North OC location?

- A larger space dedicated to mini bowling – 12 lanes
- Golf Sporting Simulator - HD, surround screen, play anywhere in the world. Bring your own clubs and learn from the pros!
- Virtual Reality Dark Experience – Don't forget to buckle up!
 - 5,000 Gallon, 14-Foot, Circular Shark Tank
 - 60-Foot, high definition big screen TV

A social distancing Happy Hour while doing research and development at our newest outdoor design at EVO!

Congrats to Keith Fisher for winning 'Best Architect on the Eastern Shore' in the Metropolitan's 2020 'Best Of' ballot.
